What an honor to be a part of the Virginia Union University family as we CELEBRATE 150 YEARS OF PROVIDING A BRIDGE TO INTELLECTUAL FREEDOM AND EQUALITY. We chose this theme because it symbolizes the building of a connection to a new life for newly freed slaves. With the establishment of Virginia Union University in Lumpkin's Jail in 1865, construction of the bridge would begin and that bridge would provide the education that would lead to true freedom.

Today, the bridge is strong and tens of thousands of Virginia Union alumni continue to cross the bridge to intellectual freedom and to make significant contributions in our city, state, and nation. We have just dedicated our first new building in more than 15 years, we are starting a new master's degree in curriculum and instruction, and our online and continuing education options are increasing.

I am pleased to report that we have seen a 30 percent increase in our endowment during the past five years, ranking us eighth among United Negro College Fund (UNCF) institutions. We have increased our scholarship support to our students from just over $2 million each year to nearly $4 million during the last academic year.

We have upgraded campus computer labs, built new chemistry and biology labs, established 39 new SMART classrooms, and made several buildings more energy efficient. Overall, in the last five years, we have performed campus upgrades of approximately $10 million without an additional debt burden.

It is indeed a time to celebrate. We have planned an exciting year of Sesquicentennial activities for our anniversary. We hope that you will review the options outlined in this latest annual report and join us on campus as often as possible. We also solicit your continued support and hope that you will use the envelope provided in this publication to make a special 150th anniversary gift. God bless you and God bless Virginia Union University.

Sincerely,

Claude G. Perkins

President's Message

Virginia Union University The Bridge To Intellectual Freedom

A steady rain could not dampen the enthusiasm of more than 700 students, faculty, alumni, and friends who packed Coburn Hall on September 8 for the official opening of Virginia Union University's 150th anniversary celebrations. Please enjoy the following excerpts from the enlightening and emotional ceremony:

"We've come here today to celebrate the 150th anniversary, to celebrate the journey, the bridge, the intellectual bridge that has brought us over. We've also come to report on the bridge. We've come to report to our forefathers and foremothers that the bridge is intact, that the bridge still surfaces above the words of ignorance and the waves that would hold us back from progress."

The bridge still stands through the storm, the wind, the rain, through criticism, and critique. This intellectual bridge called Virginia Union still stands."

*~ Dr. W. Franklyn Richardson
Chairman, VUU Board of Trustees*

"I think this is a miracle story, Virginia Union, bridge to intellectual freedom and equality. The bridge is a miracle, that we can sustain anything under the conditions that we have borne for 150 years is a miracle in and of itself. When our enslaved forebears were brought in chains to Richmond they were taken to Lumpkin's Jail to be auctioned off as human commodities ... Consider and never cease considering the scope of the crime. Two-hundred-forty-six years in which we lost not only our freedom but we lost our languages, our religions, our cultures, our customs That we survived at all to stand here today is nothing short of a miracle."

The Bridge of Time

1865. Shortly after the end of the Civil War, the American Baptist Home Mission Society (ABHMS) established a school to educate newly freed slaves in Richmond, Virginia. The only space available for rent for the newly established Richmond Theological School for Freedmen was Lumpkin's Jail, a former slave jail and auction complex.

1870. In 1870, Richmond Theological moved to the United States Hotel, on the corner of 19th and Main streets in Richmond, where it stayed for nearly 30 years. By the end of 1880, Dr. Charles

Corey, the head of the school, stated that student preachers had converted approximately 7,000 souls.

1899. ABHMS merged Richmond Theological with Wayland Seminary, a Washington, D.C. school with a similar mission, to form Virginia Union University. Nine "noble" buildings were constructed on Lombardy Street, then known as "Sheep Hill." New York based architect John Coxhead developed the buildings using grey granite and a Romanesque architecture at a cost of $500,000.

1932. Hartshorn Memorial College merged with Virginia Union in 1932 and the university became a coed institution of higher education. Hartshorn received its charter in 1884 and was the first African American women's college to offer bachelor's degrees. It was located at the corner of Leigh and Lombardy streets.

1939. Following the completion of the 1939 World's Fair in New York, Virginia Union was awarded the Belgian Pavilion from the exhibit presented by Belgium. The building was taken apart and transported to Richmond where it was reassembled as the Belgian Friendship Building. Fundraising to finance these efforts was spearheaded by Dr. John Malcus Ellison, the first African American and VUU alumnus to become president of the University. In 1942, Dr. Ellison initiated the Graduate School of Religion.

1960. On February 22, 1960, nearly 200 Virginia Union students marched from campus to downtown Richmond to protest segregated lunch counters at Thalheimer's Department Store. Thirty-four students were arrested and became known as the "Richmond 34."

1964. Storer College, the first institution of higher education for African Americans in West Virginia, merged with Virginia Union University. Storer awarded its first degrees in 1942, but closed in 1955 due to loss of funding after the Brown v. Board of Education Supreme Court decision ended legal segregation.

1997. On February 13, 1997, the L. Douglas Wilder Library and Learning Resource Center was dedicated. The building honors Virginia Union alumnus L. Douglas Wilder, the country's first elected African American governor.

2014. As of October 7, 2014, all Virginia Union University fall sports were in first place or tied for first place in the CIAA. This is a first in the history of the Virginia Union athletic program. The football team and volleyball team were tied for first place as of October 7 and the men's cross-country team was the top team in the CIAA, as of October 7.

On October 10, 2014, the VUU Board of Trustees announced a $2.1 million anonymous gift, most of which will be used to pay the remaining debt on the Learning Center, the conference and seminar facility that anchors the new Living and Learning Center. The Board also approved the anonymous donor's request to name the building for VUU President Dr. Claude G. Perkins.

Sesquicentennial Celebration Continues with Dedication of New Building

Virginia Union University (VUU) continued its year-long celebration of its 150th anniversary with the ribbon-cutting for the new Living and Learning Center on its historic Lombardy Street campus at 11:00 a.m. on September 24, 2014. The new 68,000-square-foot facility provides for 240 beds in suite-style rooms for students, as well as a conference and seminar facility.

Virginia Union President Dr. Claude G. Perkins joined faculty, staff, students, alumni, members of the Board of Trustees, and elected officials in celebrating the official opening of the new facility. "This place was a place built to last," said Dr. Perkins, referring to the first nine buildings constructed on the Lombardy Street campus in 1899. The new building is patterned after the Romanesque architecture used in the original buildings.

Dr. Perkins emphasized the theme of the 150th anniversary celebration: Virginia Union University, A Bridge to Intellectual Freedom and Equality. "The connection is connecting our past with our future," Dr. Perkins said. "It tells our students that the bridge is already there and has already been crossed. There's no excuse for you not to cross it."

Dr. John W. Kinney, Senior Vice President and Dean of the Samuel DeWitt Proctor School of Theology, offered the blessing for the new building: "We thank God for the living saints who are still dedicated and committed to the mission and purpose, goals, and the destiny of Virginia Union University. So as we dedicate this building together, we are recommitting ourselves, upholding the history, bringing life to the present, and stretching ourselves to create a future where the unborn will come and say, 'There is a bridge that has brought me over, my grandmother, my grandfather, my mother, and my father.' Thanks be to God!"

"There is still work to be done," said Dr. W. Franklyn Richardson, Chairman of the Virginia Union University Board of Trustees. "I am encouraged and you ought to be encouraged by this building. This building is only a sign of our potential. If you appreciate this building, you must appreciate it in the light of our promise, and not in the light of us having reached our destination."

Virginia Union Concert Choir Winter Concert..... DECEMBER 4, 2014

Whether your musical style is classical or gospel, the Virginia Union Concert choir provides exceptional performances of everything from Handel's Messiah to Sweet Little Jesus Boy. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Willis Barnett, who is assisted by Ms. Charmaine McGilvary, voice coach, Mr. Milton Marriott, organist, and the Virginia Union Community Orchestra. The choir will also present a spring concert in April, featuring an original 150th Anniversary composition by Dr. Barnett.

Emancipation: The First 50 Years

JANUARY 27, 2015

The history of Virginia Union and the history of Richmond have always been deeply intertwined. This program will explore Richmond between the moment of emancipation through the half century that followed, hard years for African Americans in which Virginia Union played a central role in building leadership and community. The panelists are experts in this period of history and will explore everything from politics and the economy to the role of women and of the churches. Panelists will include Gregg Kimball, Library of Virginia; Dr. Laurant Lee, Virginia Historical Society, and Dr. Ed Ayers, University of Richmond President and Professor of History, will serve as moderator of the panel discussion.

Virginia Union Trailblazers Panel FEBRUARY 17, 2015

Virginia Union alumni have made major contributions in science, politics, education, theology, and so many other fields of study. The list of “firsts” for our graduates is a long one, including the first elected African American mayor in the United States, the first African American admiral in the U.S. Navy, the first African American mayor of Richmond, and the first African American students to integrate numerous graduate and professional schools. This panel will include many of those trailblazers, including International Educator Dr. Elizabeth Bouey-Yates, Pennsylvania legislator James Roebuck, and former American Red Cross executive Steve Bullock.

VUU Rededication and Prayer Service ... APRIL 9, 2015

On April 3, 1865, the American Baptist Home Mission Society (ABHMS) sent missionaries and teachers to Richmond and the educational mission of Richmond Theological, which would later become Virginia Union, was initiated. Virginia Union's Rededication Ceremony will begin at the site of the former slave auction complex, Lumpkin's Jail, where many of VUU's early classes were held. The Executive Director of ABHMS and others will offer tributes to VUU's Founding Fathers. The group will then move to Ebenezer Baptist Church, where early VUU classes were also held under the name of Hartshorn Memorial College. After a short prayer, the group will walk to Coburn Hall on the VUU campus for a prayer service conducted by Dr. W. Franklyn Richardson, Chairman of the VUU Board of Trustees and Senior Pastor of Grace Baptist Church in Mount Vernon, New York.

Virginia Union University is indebted to the many investors who have so graciously generated support during the fiscal year 2013-2014. It is with great pleasure that the University recognizes and thanks those who have made financial commitments during the year. While every effort has been made to ensure accuracy of our investor lists, errors and omissions in this report may have occurred. Our supporters are assured of our appreciation for their generosity, and we apologize for any inaccuracies in this publication. We would appreciate having any errors brought to our attention.

VIRGINIA UNION UNIVERSITY THE CAMPUS HISTORY SERIES

The First University History Written For General Circulation In 90 Years

Written by Dr. Raymond Pierre Hylton, professor and chair of the Department of History and Political Science at Virginia Union, the book describes significant highlights of the University's 150 year history. The book also includes 180 illustrations depicting personalities, places, and events of the past and present, including priceless photos from the Virginia Union University archives.

AVAILABLE NOW IN THE VUU BOOKSTORE!

VIRGINIA UNION UNIVERSITY

THE BRIDGE TO INTELLECTUAL FREEDOM AND EQUALITY

CELEBRATING 150 YEARS

In 1865, Virginia Union provided the bridge from slavery to freedom. Today, we take students from all walks of life and prepare them to succeed in the global marketplace.

Keeping the bridge strong requires your help.
