Virginia Union University has been a beacon of hope in the African American community, serving as a vital pillar of higher learning for nearly 160 years. Our history is special, and our mission is profound: To develop scholars, leaders, and lifelong learners of a global society.

Your Board of Trustees understands that Virginia Union pursues this mission in a highly competitive landscape for higher education in our country. We understand that students have more options than ever before, and we know that excellence attracts excellence. These beliefs guide our work and shape our commitment to ensuring that the university continually identifies new ways to grow and to serve our community.

In everything we do, we celebrate the attributes that make Virginia Union unique: our history, our people, and our vision for the future.

Thank you for your unwavering commitment to VUU. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, please know that we look forward to working hand-in-hand with each of you as we continue to shape a brighter future for our beloved institution.

W. Franklyn Richardson, Ph. D.
Chairman, Board of Trustees
Virginia Union University
Your university’s march toward excellence continues. The pace is accelerating, and it is something to behold. Everyone at Virginia Union is united behind a clear goal: Transform Virginia Union into a Best-in-Class university. We made tremendous progress in 2022-23, and we present this report to you with great enthusiasm.

We made important advancements in every part of our business:

• Virginia Union University was selected as one of nine Historically Black Colleges and Universities to partner with The Historic Fund, a venture capital fund established to help grow HBCU endowments.
• Our athletic teams earned Player of the Year and Coach of the Year honors from the CIAA, and our golf team became the first HBCU to win back-to-back national academic championships.
• We welcomed the return of great university traditions, such as the annual Legacy Awards and Scholarship Gala (which raised $300,000 to funds student scholarships), and we launched an extensive Master Planning effort to shape the future of our campus.
• We earned extensive national media coverage, as CBS Saturday Morning told the story of The Devil’s Half Acre.

The entire Virginia Union family can be proud of this progress—and we eagerly embrace the opportunities to raise our standards even higher.

We begin the new year with a dramatic 31% surge in enrollment. This is especially gratifying at a time when some question the value of higher education. We know that students have choices, and we are proud they are selecting Virginia Union in rising numbers.

These achievements are a testimony to our faculty who teach students, to our alumni who inspire them, and to our community that guides students to a lifetime of success. We deeply appreciate all you do for this important institution, and we ask for your continued prayers and support.

NEW INVESTMENTS ENABLE STUDENTS TO ATTEND VUU TUITION-FREE

In a groundbreaking move aimed at reducing financial barriers to higher education, Virginia Union University (VUU) and the Commonwealth of Virginia have joined forces to offer first-year students a remarkable opportunity. The Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant, designed to make college education more affordable, will allow eligible students to attend VUU tuition-free for their first year.

This pioneering program is a testament to the commitment of both VUU and the state of Virginia to expanding access to higher education and ensuring that students from diverse backgrounds have the opportunity to pursue their dreams.

Virginia Union University, founded in 1865, has a long-standing reputation for academic excellence and a commitment to nurturing future leaders. The university offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs in fields ranging from business to the humanities, attracting students from across the state and beyond.

The VTAG initiative is a win-win for both students and the state of Virginia. Students can pursue their higher education goals with reduced financial stress, while the state benefits from an educated and skilled workforce, contributing to economic growth and development.

The VTAG initiative for first-year students at VUU represents a significant step toward making higher education more accessible and affordable in Virginia. This groundbreaking program aligns with the broader national trend of initiatives aimed at reducing student debt and increasing college attendance.

As the VTAG initiative unfolds, it serves as a beacon of hope for those who dream of attending college without the overwhelming financial burden. It reinforces the idea that education is a valuable investment in the future and that, with the right support, the doors to knowledge and opportunity can be opened wider for all.

Virginia Union University and the state of Virginia have taken a significant step toward a brighter, more equitable future through the VTAG initiative.

VUU students received $3,934,570 in FY’22, and it is expected to nearly double in the next fiscal year.
TWO-TIME VUU SCHOLAR-ATHLETE RECEIVES NBA INTERNSHIP

Devon Sims, a two-time VUU graduate and athlete, recently accepted a summer internship in New York with the NBA through the 2023 inaugural NBA cohort and HBCU Fellowship program. Sims joins the NBA League Office as their League Finance intern.

Sims looks forward to learning transferable skills and gaining knowledge to help develop his career professionally. He also plans to build relationships with leaders and his counterparts while participating in the internship program this summer.

Sims graduated with his Bachelor of Science in May 2022 with a double major in Accounting and Business Management while playing on the men’s basketball team. He graduated again in May 2023 with an Executive MBA from VUU while playing his last year of college basketball.

Sims is also studying for his CPA license and plans to return to VUU to pursue his doctorate.

Sims shared his excitement for the internship opportunity and thanked those that helped him along this process. “Thank you to the NBA, Children’s Defense Fund, and Fearless Dialogues for this amazing opportunity.”

“I am forever grateful to Virginia Union University and current professors and mentors for helping prepare me for this experience. Special thank you to Bria Townsend, Marshall Forney, Amal Yamusah (MAP), Vince Pierson (BSBA), Dr. Robin Davis, and Jessica Gilbert for believing in me and helping me develop my professional skills,” he added.

For the future, Sims plans to work for KPMG, one of the BIG 4 accounting firms in the world, in August as a federal auditor in Washington, D.C. Sims also acknowledged his mentor Wendy Lewis, a VUU alum and Partner at KPMG, who inspires his career path as a professional accountant and leader.

“I’m thrilled to be able to grow my professional career in sports and finance, and I can’t think of a better place to do that than New York,” said Devon Sims.
IIE AMERICAN PASSPORT GRANT PAVES THE WAY FOR VUU STUDENTS STUDY ABROAD SUCCESS

Virginia Union has been selected by the Institute of International Education (IIE) to receive an IIE American Passport Project grant enabling up to 25 Virginia Union students to obtain a U.S. passport and support their study aboard journeys. In this third year of the program, IIE awarded 48 institutions in the IIENetwork for this opportunity, which will help up to 1,200 Pell-eligible, U.S. students obtain their U.S. passports and start their study aboard journey.

“A passport is the first thing that opens up their world to the possibility of study abroad,” said Courtney Temple, IIE Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer.

As a key initiative under IIE’s newly launched Center for Access and Equity, the IIE American Passport Project represents IIE’s commitment to create access to international education opportunities and enable equity. For this program, IIE is removing an initial financial barrier for many – the cost of a U.S. passport; thereby, helping to increase diversity and inclusion of students studying abroad. Through the IIE American Passport Project, IIE aims to empower 10,000 U.S. students with their passports by the end of this decade.

VUU Office of Study Away will allow 25 “first-year Pell Grant eligible” students to participate in a traditional, bilateral exchange, international service-learning, international internships, faculty-led or independent short-term study abroad, and faculty-led programs abroad. This grant will also provide Virginia Union with the Post-COVID study abroad reboot needed to adhere to the Nine Nobles Strategic Plan noble culture; every student must have a term away experience.

Most importantly, VUU will provide students with an all-access granted the opportunity to become globally competent citizens in today’s globalized workforce and increase critical language immersion and produce critical language speaking BIPOC HBCU graduates.

In addition, the grant is intended to support the IIENetwork, IIE’s global membership association, in assisting students from their respective campuses to go abroad who would otherwise not participate in an international experience as part of their college education. The program prioritizes first-year students, with limited financial means, for whom this may be their first passport and makes global learning abroad a greater possibility with an earlier start. The awarded institutions will couple the grant funding with their engagement and outreach, advising, programming, and additional support for the students they have identified for this program.

Studying abroad has opened me to learning new languages to communicate with different people of the world. Study Abroad has given me a chance to play soccer with locals, to fellowship with neighbors and has provided the opportunity to strengthen my skills as a rising international videographer and photographer. I love Japan so much that I extended my stay as I continue to work on my Master of Business Administration Degree online through Virginia Union University”.

VUU recognizes achievements of nine faculty and staff instrumental in securing $30 million in grants over 2020-2023 academic years

VUU faculty and staff members play a critical role in the success of bringing new external funding to the University and in the lives of our students and community. The grant awards event recognized the efforts of those who participated in the grantsmanship process over the past three years and their awards. Awards were presented in the Claude G. Perkins Living & Learning Center Monday, May 8, 2023.

“It is a pleasure to see how the attendees were recognized and honored for their work—applying, writing, overseeing, and directing grants,” said Dr. Nathaniel West, Chair of Formation Division School of Theology at VUU. “It is a blessing not only for the University but the students who lack resources. That is why I will continue to write these grants,” he added.

Dr. Darius Beechaum, Director of Sponsored Programs, presided over the ceremony with Dr. Linda Jackson, VP of Sponsored Research and Innovation (SRI). At the event’s start, Dr. Jackson acknowledged the hard work of the grant participants and thanked them for their dedication to the grantsmanship process. She then introduced Dr. Beechaum, who provided an overview of the grants program and its members. The participants of the grants program then went on to receive their awards.
Awards included:
- Appreciation Awards
- Funded Awards
- Special Award
- Presidential Award

Nine faculty and staff aided in the process of receiving grants totaling $30M over the 2020-2023 academic years.

The award ceremony concluded with an empowering message from Dr. Jackson. She challenged the award recipients to continue striving to excel in their selected fields and to keep taking risks that could bring forth new opportunities for change and innovation at VUU.

ALTRIA GRANT EMPOWERS STUDENTS: $500,000 FUELS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING SUMMER INSTITUTE

Virginia Union University’s School of Arts and Sciences recently hosted its Science and Engineering Summer Institute, a five-week initiative made possible by a generous $500,000 grant for the 2021-2022 academic year, generously provided by Altria Group. This innovative program was specifically designed to offer incoming first-year students a unique opportunity to immerse themselves in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) projects, providing them with invaluable real-world, hands-on experiences.

Dr. Hakim J. Lucas, President and CEO of VUU, emphasized the critical importance of this initiative in the context of the ever-evolving technological landscape: “As technology continues to evolve, the demand for STEM educators and workers increases. VUU is a proud recipient of this grant from Altria, which will allow us to shape the next wave of innovators in the STEM field.”

Seven promising incoming freshmen from various regions, including Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, and Pennsylvania, actively participated in this enriching program: Joseph Allen, Hailey Blackwell, Jayden Evans, Tyrice Fowlkes, Dakota Inniss, Micah Walker, and Jonathan Woodhouse.

Throughout the summer institute, these students engaged in a series of immersive STEM-focused labs and workshops, where they had the chance to work with cutting-edge technology, including 3D printers and amplifier construction. These experiences enabled them to cultivate valuable expertise in the domains of electrical and mechanical engineering. As a testament to their dedication and hard work, successful program completion was rewarded with scholarships, providing up to $10,000 in tuition assistance for the upcoming academic year.

Dr. Francis Mensah, Associate Professor of Physics and Interim Chair of the Department of Natural Sciences, played a pivotal role as the program manager, collaborating closely with Dr. Akhinyala Cobb-Abdullah, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences and program supervisor, along with Valencia Clark, Project Coordinator.
Dr. Mensah expressed the multifaceted goals of the summer program: “By hosting this summer program, we hope to not only give students a jumpstart in their studies, but also help them with the cost of attending the university. We hope to increase the visibility of VUU and attract more students who are interested in STEM fields.”

Joseph Allen, a first-year Cyber Security student hailing from Maryland, was one of the enthusiastic participants in this cohort. Reflecting on his experience, Allen shared, “Prior to applying for this program, I thought our classes were going to be mostly book work. I was surprised at how hands-on most of our projects were and how involved the students were.”

To mark the successful culmination of the summer institute, the university organized a closing reception to celebrate the students’ accomplishments and their completion of this enriching program.

Joseph Allen also offered words of encouragement to prospective students: “I would encourage other students to just do it. Get a head start on college courses. It will benefit your education going forward.” This sentiment underscores the enduring value of initiatives like the Science and Engineering Summer Institute at Virginia Union University in nurturing the next generation of STEM professionals.
VIRGINIA UNION UNIVERSITY’S 124TH COMMENCEMENT RECOGNIZES NEW GRADUATE COHORTS AND HONORARY DOCTORATES

Virginia Union University held its 124th Commencement Ceremony on May 13 at 10 AM on Hovey Field where Virginia Senator Lamont Bagby delivered the commencement speech encouraging the graduates to be courageous and follow their dreams. “Your time is Right Now. Yes, be patient—but also be persistent. Be cool and be courageous,” he said. Senator Bagby also received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Bagby currently serves Virginia’s 9th District and chairs the Virginia Legislative Black Caucus. He earned his bachelor’s degree from Norfolk State University and a Master of Education from Virginia Commonwealth University.

Before his senatorial term, Bagby was elected to the Virginia House of Delegates, where he served for 8 years. Before serving as a delegate of Virginia’s 74th District, he was a member of the Henrico County School Board and the Norfolk State University Board of Visitors.

VUU focuses on the future of higher education through educational pipeline collaborations and opportunities

VUU hosted SCHEV on campus in May, as the group met across two days to consider recent initiatives, proposals, and other academic business on the state of higher education.

Dr. Allia Carter, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer greeted SCHEV and delivered a presentation on the goals of the University as a whole. “VUU’s mission is to ensure our students here can access education. We aim to build an educational-based pipeline that gets into a continuum starting with K-12 experience up to their doctoral degree,” she said.

Carter took the Council through the University’s strategy for attracting and retaining new students and projects, including collaborations with the city, other local groups, and VUU’s National Research Institution.

VUU SELECTED TO PARTNER WITH THE HISTORIC FUND’S $10 MILLION EFFORT TO SUPPORT HBCU ENDOWMENT

Virginia Union University has been selected as one of nine Historically Black Colleges and Universities to partner with The Historic Fund, a venture capital fund established to help grow HBCU endowments.

The $10+ million-dollar effort was designed to invest in HBCUs by providing access to venture capital funds. Nine HBCUs were invited to become limited partners without having to invest their own assets. The fund addresses the “substantial endowment gap between HBCUs and their peer educational institutions” according to The Historic Fund.

“Virginia Union is pleased to partner with The Historic Fund in its effort to bridge the endowment gap between HBCUs and colleges throughout the nation,” said President Hakim J. Lucas. “This partnership is a major step toward promoting equity and inclusion among higher education institutions, allowing VUU to forge ahead in its effort to be an innovative developer of scholars, leaders, and lifelong learners of a global society.”
In a significant tribute to the trailblazing legacy of Joseph and Rachel Hartshorn, Alan and Miriam Pemberton, descendants of the Hartshorn family, established Joseph and Rachel Hartshorn Memorial Scholarship at Virginia Union University. This scholarship aims to celebrate the profound contributions of the Hartshorns, who pioneered African American women’s education in the United States by establishing the first women’s college offering bachelor’s degrees.

Joseph and Rachel Hartshorn’s enduring commitment to education and empowerment laid the foundation for the advancement of African American women in higher education. Their dedication to providing opportunities for women, especially in the post-Civil War era, remains an inspiring story of resilience and progress.

Hartshorn Memorial College was founded in 1883 in Richmond, Virginia, with a mission to offer African American women access to higher education. This was a time when educational opportunities for women, particularly those of African descent, were scarce. The college played a pivotal role in breaking down barriers and empowering generations of women.

The Hartshorn Scholarship at VUU is a testament to the Hartshorns’ unwavering commitment to education and equality. Dr. Hakim J. Lucas, President and CEO of VUU, expressed his excitement about this initiative, saying, “The Hartshorns’ contributions to education and women’s empowerment are immeasurable. We are proud to establish the Hartshorn Scholarship, which will provide opportunities for African American women to access higher education, just as the Hartshorns did over a century ago. This scholarship embodies our commitment to honoring the past while shaping the future.”
Virginia Union University continues to focus on fiscal health with a summary of the business model. The goal of the model is to ensure the resource allocation for the institution maintains a healthy and fiscally responsible position that fuels the way to Best-in-Class. The budget is predicated on a zero-based budget approach that incorporates projected revenues and subsequent constraints. The revenue is indicated by the enrollment mix of incoming and continuing students charged on a per unit cadence. The total cost of attendance is comprised of options chosen by the educational prowess of the student and incorporate a range of tuition, fees, room, and board. All factors are assumed into the model that are calculated into a pre-allocatable sum.

The budget of the university utilizes three main categories that are considered prudent to its success. The first and most important category is personnel. Intellectual property is the lifeblood of the university, which is maintained through the largest portion of the budget. The second category of expenses are institutional other than personnel services (OTPS) which include fixed items germane to the continued sustainable operation of the university. The third category involves the strategic initiatives of each Vice President known as divisional OTPS.

VIRGINIA UNION CONTINUES UPWARD TRAJECTORY, RISING AGAIN IN NATIONAL RANKINGS

Virginia Union University’s march to excellence continues, as the latest national rankings show Virginia Union rising more than 30 positions in just four years. Today’s announcement from U.S. News & World Report shows Virginia Union propelling upward, now ranking as the country’s 43rd-best HBCU, after breaking into the top 50 for the first-time last year. The university was not ranked at all just four years ago, when the upward trajectory began:

In addition, Virginia Union ranked #24 in the country for advancing social mobility, comparing some 200 national liberal arts universities. Only one Virginia university ranked higher than Virginia Union.

“Social mobility” measures the extent to which schools enrolled and graduated students who received federal Pell Grants. These students typically come from households whose family incomes are less than $50,000 annually. Most Pell Grant money goes to students with a total family income below $20,000.

“Virginia Union is making dramatic progress toward our goal of being the country’s top HBCU,” said Dr. Hakim J. Lucas, President & CEO of Virginia Union University. “This move forward is a testimony to the hard work of our faculty, staff, students, and alumni. Working together, they are propelling this University forward, even while grappling with the pandemic. This is what professionalism looks like, it’s what teamwork looks like, and it’s what love for a university looks like. Make no mistake: We are just getting started.”

U.S. News & World Report measures “academic quality using seven categories: outcome measures, graduate indebtedness, assessment by administrators at peer HBCUs, faculty resources, financial resources, student excellence and alumni giving. These indicators include input measures that reflect a school’s student body, its faculty and its financial resources, along with outcome measures – such as graduation rates, first-year student retention rates, graduate indebtedness and social mobility—that signal how well an institution educates students and whether they eventually graduate.”
Virginia Union University is a premier liberal arts institution and publicly serving HBCU with recognition as a private institution through the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia. Founded in 1865, Virginia Union University was originally established to give newly emancipated slaves an opportunity for education and advancement. Today, the University is a center for excellence focusing on preparing and developing today's students to become advanced leaders of tomorrow. In a captivating segment featured on CBS Saturday Morning, viewers were taken on a historical journey through the intriguing story of Mary Lumpkin and the Devil’s Half Acre, illuminating the profound connection it shares with the esteemed VUU. The segment highlighted author Kristin Green’s findings as it told the story of transformation of the Devil’s Half Acre into a significant cultural and educational landmark. This transformation culminated in its status as an integral part of Virginia Union University’s campus. VUU’s Board Chairman Rev. Dr. Franklyn Richardson, described the landmark as, “the place we were sold into slavery becomes the place we are released into intellectual freedom.”

This story of Mary Lumpkin serves as a poignant reminder of the resilience and determination that have shaped both individuals and institutions throughout American history.

Virginia Union University ANNUAL REPORT 2020–2021

VUU HISTORICAL TIMELINE

- VUU founded in 1865 to give the newly emancipated freedmen an opportunity for education of the mind in an ethical, religious environment.
- The American Baptist Home Mission Society (ABHMS) founded the school in 1865 shortly after Union troops took control of Richmond, Virginia, at the end of the American Civil War.
- The college became the first academic library at an HBCU, building the library in 1865 the same year the college was established. Members of the ABHMS proposed a National Theological Institute to educate freedmen wishing to enter the Baptist ministry. Soon the proposed mission was expanded to offer courses and programs at college, high school, and preparatory levels, to both men and women. This effort was the beginning of Virginia Union University.
- Separate branches of the National Theological Institute were set up in Washington, D.C., and Richmond, Virginia, with classes beginning in 1867. In Washington, the school became known as Wayland Seminary, named in commemoration of Dr. Francis Wayland, former president of Brown University and a leader in the anti-slavery struggle. The first and only president was Dr. George Mellen Prentiss King, who administered Wayland for thirty years (1867–1897). Famous students there included Dr. Booker T. Washington and Dr. Adam Clayton Powell, Sr.
- In Richmond, the efforts were more difficult. Beginning in 1867, Colver Institute, a VUU predecessor school, was housed in a building long known as Lumpkin’s Jail, a former “slave jail” owned by Mary Ann Lumpkin, the African-American widow of the deceased white owner.
- In 1899, the Richmond Theological Institute (formerly Colver Institute) joined with Wayland Seminary of Washington to form Virginia Union University at Richmond.
- In 1932, the women’s college Hartshorn Memorial College, established in Richmond in 1883, became a part of Virginia Union University.
- Storer College, a historically black Baptist college in West Virginia (founded in 1867), merged its endowment with Virginia Union in 1964.
In a recent MLK celebration event, Virginia Governor Glenn Youngkin joined VUU Trustee and notable Pastor of Alfred Street Baptist Church Howard-John Wesley to commemorate the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The event was marked by a diverse gathering of community members and leaders, who came together to honor the civil rights icon and Richmond Public School principals making a tremendous contribution to the community.

Governor Youngkin emphasized the importance of unity and working towards a more inclusive society in his address, echoing Dr. King’s message of equality and justice. He pledged to continue promoting policies that foster diversity and equity in Virginia.

Pastor Wesley delivered a powerful speech, drawing inspiration from Dr. King’s teachings. He emphasized the need for continued social progress and encouraged everyone to actively engage in the fight against discrimination and injustice.

The MLK celebration served as a reminder of the enduring impact of Dr. King’s vision and the ongoing work needed to realize his dream of a just and equitable society.

Moreover, VUU bestowed the inaugural Living the Dream Legacy Award in a posthumous recognition of the esteemed Representative A. Donald McEachin. The award was graciously accepted on his behalf by Colette McEachin, the former Attorney for the city of Richmond and his widow.

“There comes a moment when there’s got to be more than your Sunday shout. There’s got to be your Monday movement. At some moment, God shows up and says, ‘I heard your prayer. Now go fight.’”

—Pastor Howard-John Wesley
During the re-birth of an extraordinary night, Virginia Union University celebrated its 8th Annual Legacy Awards & Scholarship Gala at the Greater Richmond Convention Center. With the support of numerous corporations and businesses, individuals, alumni, and community organizations, the university raised nearly $300,000 for VUU students. During the event, hosted by the honorable Mayor Levar Stoney, City of Richmond, VUU recognized five honorees for their contributions to Virginia Union and their impact on the communities they serve:

- HBCU Impact Award | Altria – accepted by Ms. Jennifer Hunter
- Corporate Leader Award | Victor Branch
- Lifetime Achievement Award | Dr. Lucille M. Brown
- Beacon of Light Award | VUU National Alumni Association (VUUNAA)
- Community Leader Award | Michel Zajur

The fundraising event was student-driven, giving students the opportunity to display their work and share their aspirations upon graduating from the university.

More than 700 guests were in attendance, including presenting sponsor, Mayor Levar Stoney and PepsiCo Sales Executive, Jeff Burks. McGuireWoods, Henrico County, Altria Group, Virginia State University and Bank of America were among this year’s hosts of corporate, business and community sponsors along with VUU President and CEO, Dr. Hakim J. Lucas and VUU students.

“We brought in the resources to help our academic team do their invaluable work and fund scholarships that narrow the gap between college costs and family resources,” said Robin Byrd, Special Events and Partnerships Director for Institutional Advancement at the university. “Together, we elevated the narrative of our beloved VUU which helps to strengthen and lead a new generation of young and gifted students.”
BYERS, MYERS AND PARKER NAMED CIAA PLAYER/COACH OF THE YEAR

Virginia Union University’s Jada Byers has been named the CIAA Offensive Player of the Year and kicker Brady Myers has been named CIAA Special Teams Player of the Year while VUU Head Football Coach Dr. Alvin Parker has been named the CIAA Coach of the Year, the CIAA announced on Friday, November 11.

A total of 17 Virginia Union football players were named Players/Coach of the Year and to the All-CIAA and All-Rookie teams.

Byers, a sophomore running back from Hammonton, N.J., majoring in Social Work, led the nation with 1,809 rushing yards this season and led all of NCAA Division II with 2,110 all-purpose yards. Byers also led the nation with an average of 180.9 rushing yards per game.

Myers, a true freshman from Orlando, Fla., majoring in Mass Communications, was second only to Jada Byers in scoring in the CIAA. Myers scored a conference-best for kickers with 74 points for the Panthers, hitting a school-record 53 extra points (besting the previous record of 43 set by Roderick Copeland in 1981). Myers also scored seven field goals.

Parker guided VUU to a 9-1 record, marking the most wins for a Virginia Union football team since the 2007 Panther squad won nine games. Parker has also placed VUU in position to make the NCAA Football Playoffs for the first time since 2015.

“This team has done a great job on the field and I’m glad that they were able to be recognized for their efforts,” said Parker. “In order to go 9-1, you have to have a special group of players. Thank you to the CIAA for these superlatives, to have 14 of our student-athletes earn ALL-Conference awards is truly an honor. I believe a few worthy student-athletes were left off, but they should have another game to show why they belong. Extra congratulations go to Brady Myers on receiving the Special Teams player of the year and Jada Byers on receiving the Offensive Player of the year, both extremely well deserved. For a freshman and sophomore to win those awards speaks volumes about the direction of our program. And lastly, I am very humbled to be named the CIAA Coach of the year. In order to be named the coach of the year you have to have a great staff and my guys do a great job of focusing on the mission. I’m very thankful for it all.”
VUU GOLF TEAM BECOMES FIRST HBCU TO WIN BACK-TO-BACK NATIONAL ACADEMIC CHAMPIONSHIPS

Virginia Union University’s Golf Team has received the National Academic Award Recognition from the Golf Coaches Association of America, it was announced on Wednesday, July 27. This recognition is for golf teams with a grade point average of 3.5 or higher for the Academic Year 2021-22.

There were seven NCAA Divisional teams, including DI, DII, DIII, NAIA, HBCUs, NJCAA DI and NJCAA DII that were recognized as having GPAs of 3.5 or higher and VUU’s Golf Team finished with a team GPA of 3.73. Virginia Union finished as an Academic National Champion and #1 amongst the HBCU’s. This is the team’s third year being recognized since becoming a member of the Golf Coaches of America Association.

“I am proud of the focus of this team towards their performance on the golf course as well as their academic success,” said VUU Head Golf Coach E. Lee Coble. “They truly exemplify the term ‘Student-Athlete.’”

This great news comes on the heels of VUU announcing the first E. Lee Coble Golf Tournament in honor of the achievements of Coach Coble.

“Coach Coble brings tremendous value to Virginia Union University and the Intercollegiate Athletics and Community Wellness Department. He is highly respected throughout the golf world (United States Golf Association, (USGA) and Professional Golfers Association (PGA) and the Virginia State golf Association (VSGA) as a Former President),” said Joe Taylor, Vice President of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Intercollegiate Athletics promotes physical fitness, provides opportunities for student-athletes to excel in their chosen sports, and fosters a sense of school spirit and community pride. At HBCUs, athletics play a significant role in the overall college experience and serve as a platform for social and cultural expression.
